

Ayletts' Update - Conference in Thailand

Dear praying friends,

In half an hour's time, Graham will be off to the airport again, on his way a Conference in Chiang Mai, Thailand.

This is a Leader Development Consultation - see ldc.io for more details.

Graham will be there with two close friends and colleagues:

Tim Green, the General Secretary of the Increase Association, and

Qaiser Julius, the Director of the TEE programme in Pakistan, which is called the Open Theological Seminary (OTS)

On Tuesday afternoon (May 23) Tim is leading a session on

Understanding and Caring for Believers of Muslim Background

On Wednesday (May 24) Qaiser will talk about the ministry of the OTS as an example of an effective, non-residential pathway for leadership training.

On Thursday, Graham & Qaiser are due to lead a workshop on:

Tools to Equip & Empower - growing disciples and leaders using church-based TEE

Please pray

* that the Lord will bring those he wants to each of these sessions - there are multiple sessions running in parallel.

* that there will be many good conversations, and we will be able to connect with those we can learn from and partner with.

* through the Conference as a whole that there will be much good fruit that lasts.

Meanwhile, our Tim is in the middle of his end-of-first-year exams in Durham; and Lydia is still looking for a new job in The Hague.

Nicola is hoping to make some more progress this week with our search for a new house to rent, in Northampton. Please pray for that, too!

We so much value your partnership in prayer!

Thank you,
Graham & Nicola
